Music Program Next Tuesday

Please join us Tuesday evening, December 11th at 7pm in the church for our K-6 Christmas Music Program. We ask that your children arrive at 6:45 dressed in their "Sunday Best" (no jeans or t-shirts please). The children will meet in the Gathering Area. Invite your family and friends to join us for a delightful evening of music.

The Golden Compass...

"The Golden Compass" is a children's adventure movie coming to theaters soon. It is based on a trilogy of books written by professed atheist, Phillip Pullman, who has declared in interviews, "My books are about killing God" and "trying to undermine the basis of Christian belief." Although this may not be apparent in the first movie, it is evident in the books which begin fighting the evil "Magisterium" and end with the killing of "Yahweh". As the primary educators of your children, it is your decision whether or not your family views this movie. Regardless of your decision, we ask that you do not allow your children to bring these books or related items to school. A review of the film written by the US Catholic Bishop's Conference is enclosed with this week's ThE. Another review of the film written by The Catholic Association is posted at www.thecatholicassociation.org/golden\_compass.html.

The 6th Graders are studying decimals in Math and Egypt in Social Studies. At inside recess they play cards. At outside recess they play football and basketball. They will be doing "Secret Santas". The 6th graders just finished up monologues for the book "Hatchet". I interviewed Carissa, Jared and Robert. This is an interview from Travis, President of Student Council.
